Project Title	RETAK
Supervisor Name	NOR FARAH NAQUIAH BINTI MOHAMAD DAUD

Week: 2		Date: 14/10/2025
Task	Problems/Solutions	Evidence
Three initial concept ideas for the short film project were presented to the supervisor. Each concept explored different themes and narrative approaches, including storyline direction, genre, and visual style.	The main issue identified was that the initial concepts lacked strong narrative depth and emotional impact. Some ideas were considered too general and did not clearly convey a unique message. To address this, the supervisor suggested exploring alternative storylines with a clearer focus and stronger emotional engagement.
Supervisor's feedback		Response to supervision
Miss suggested to find another storyline.		New ideas were planned to be developed based on the supervisor's suggestion.

Week: 2		Date: 16/10/2025
Task	Problems/Solutions	Evidence
A new storyline focusing on schizophrenia and psychological disturbance was selected. The concept emphasizes internal conflict, trauma, and the use of sound and silence as narrative tools.	One challenge was ensuring the topic was portrayed sensitively and realistically without reinforcing stereotypes. This was addressed by focusing the narrative on internal experiences rather than exaggerated external behavior and conducting basic background research on the subject matter.
Supervisor's feedback		Response to supervision
Positive feedback was given on the new direction.		The storyline was further developed and structured into scenes.

Week: 3		Date: 20/10/2025
Task	Problems/Solutions	Evidence
The project topic was finalized, and a complete proposal was presented, including synopsis, objectives, target audience, and overall creative direction.	Some sections of the proposal required clearer explanation, particularly regarding narrative structure and sound-based storytelling. The proposal was refined to improve clarity and justification of creative decisions. Week: 4		Date: 29/10/2025
Task	Problems/Solutions	Evidence
The script draft and proposed shot list were presented, including planned camera angles and scene flow.	Several scenes lacked visual clarity and did not fully support the intended emotional tone. This was resolved by revising the script and adjusting shot compositions to better reflect the psychological state of the main character.
Supervisor's feedback		Response to supervision
Need to improve a few parts.		Necessary improvements were made to the script and shot planning.

Week: 8		Date: 27/11/2025
Task	Problems/Solutions	Evidence
A rough edited version of the film was presented using placeholder visuals without real actors to demonstrate pacing and structure.	Some shots required improvement in terms of composition and continuity. Selected scenes were identified for reshooting with improved camera angles.	 The evidence shows a WhatsApp conversation with 'BITU3923 WORKSHOP II' and a video file titled 'Rough Draft Workshop 2 Video.mp4' shared by a contact named 'syafiqs'.
Supervisor's feedback		Response to supervision
Few shots need to improve and reshoot.		Reshoots were planned and carried out for the affected scenes.

Week: 10		Date:11/12/2025
Task	Problems/Solutions	Evidence
The full storyline with visual effects was presented.	Certain scenes lacked proper angle synchronization, affecting continuity. Additional reshoots were conducted to correct camera alignment and improve visual consistency.
Supervisor's feedback		Response to supervision
Need reshoot few parts to sync the angle.		Necessary reshoots were completed and incorporated into the final edit.

Week: 13		Date: 5/1/2025
Task	Problems/Solutions	Evidence
-The full video with completed sound editing was presented. -The poster and merchandise design for the short film was presented.	-The sound design required further refinement to achieve a more realistic effect, particularly for whispering voices and background ambience. Sound layering and timing were improved to enhance realism. - Minor adjustments were required in terms of layout balance and visual emphasis. Typography and contrast were refined to enhance clarity and impact.
Supervisor's feedback		Response to supervision
Sound part needs to be more realistic.		Sound design was refined using more subtle and realistic audio elements.
